About the Introduction to Cleaning Module

Jangro recognises that well trained, knowledgeable staff are pivotal in the cleaning industry and as well as providing you with all the tools and equipment you will need we also offer a whole host of training. Our support covers everything from COSHH to Infection Control and Colour Coding.

Struggling to figure what you should be cleaning and when? We can support your team with additional material to help them on their way. Cleaning Schedule Charts, Safe Working Procedures and Product Usage Guides are just a few of helpful materials that will help you implement an effective cleaning procedure.

Improving your knowledge about our chemicals and colour coding work is the aim of this module, helping you properly select chemicals and types of equipment suitable for your job. If you need further assistance, your Jangro supplier can help ensure you are making the correct choices.
